Rules and Regulations for Public Information Request

In accordance with State of Washington RCW 42.56, the Port of Columbia will protect public records from damage or disorganization and furnish requested information to any member of the public as long as that information is not considered privileged, confidential or exempt as further outlined by RCW's.

Public records requests can be made in person, by mail, fax, or electronically. All requests must be submitted in writing using the Port of Columbia Request for Information form available at the Port of Columbia office or on our website at www.portofcolumbia.org. Requests for records should be directed to:

Port of Columbia Public Records Officer
Jennie Dickinson

Public records are available for inspection at the port office Monday through Friday from 10:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M (excluding legal holidays). Any review of records must not disrupt regular port business and an appointment with 48 hours minimum notice is required. Records may not be removed from the premises and may not be disassembled or altered in any way.

Upon receiving a request for records, the Port shall, within five (5) business days, respond by: (1) providing the record, (2) acknowledging receipt of the request and providing a reasonable estimate of the time the Port will need to respond to the request; or (3) denying the records request. Additional time may be required to respond to a request because of the need to seek clarification, locate and assemble the information requested, notify third parties or agencies affected by the request, or to determine whether any of the information requested is exempt and that a denial should be made as to all or part of the request (RCW 42.56.520).

Once the records have been assembled, you will be notified that the records are available for your review. Copies of records can be requested after the review is completed, or you may
